In Memoriam

MISS ESTHER JANE PRATT

1863 - 1947

Our parents and grandparents remember Miss Pratt with affection and associate her with fine ideals, high cultural standards, and a desire to live life to the fullest. It was she who, for eighteen years, was the guiding hand of the Carthaginian, and it is to her memory that we join in paying tribute.

CLASSES

The Seniors

For four years, the class of '47 has graced the halls of C. H. S., and it will be found that the members of the class have contributed to almost all the school's activities of the past years.

Many of the seniors have participated in sports such as football, basketball, tennis and golf, in debate and dramatics, in musical departments and in the school publications.

On Thursday, November 7, the class held a "Barn Party" at the country home of Emma Hain.

The senior class play, "The Life of the Party," by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes, was presented on Tuesday, April 15. Proceeds were used to purchase a class memorial for the school.

An assembly was presented by the class of '47 as an annual affair.

The senior class sponsors were Miss Halliburton, Mrs. Moler and Mr. Richards

When We Were Young and Gay

The Juniors

The fall of 1946 will long be remembered in Carthage High, for the outstanding class of 1948 was enrolled. This famous class proudly entered C. H. S. as Juniors with the same spirit we had as we started. This year members of our class have succeeded in gaining honors in various fields—debating, oratorical contests, music, football, basketball, and other athletic events.

Our class play, "Cross My Heart," was one of the most successful ever produced on our cherished C. H. S. stage and will be remembered by everyone who saw it.

With next year in mind, we continue our activities so that we may complete our years in C. H. S. and go out into the world aiming to make C. H. S. proud of us.

The Sophomores

The Sophomore Class this year was active in many school activities. We were well represented on both football and basketball teams of the school, and in the literary societies, the music department, speech department, and debating.

Tony Pace, Sue Woestman, Mary Hodkin, Bill Bennett, Larry Dunham, and Keith Walker were members of the Student Council.

The class enjoyed a picnic at the Municipal Park Friday, October 18, 1946, and afterwards attended the Joplin-Carthage football game.

The Sophomores chose Eugene Weithoner as their best citizen to make a trip to Jefferson City in April, through the courtesy of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs.

Our class sponsors were Miss McMurtry, Miss Irwin, Miss Johnson, and Mr. Cherry.

The Freshmen

The fall of 1946 saw the future seniors of 1950 enrolled. The class is justifiably proud of its record this first year.

Members of the class have taken part in athletics, chorus groups, band, orchestra, and societies. A freshman talent assembly program was given in December.

The class is looking forward to three more years of learning and fun in Carthage High.

The sponsors of the class are Mr. Moler, Miss Piercy, and Miss Argabright.

The Student Council has made every effort during the past year to carry out its purpose, which is to develop student initiative, leadership, and democracy. The president, elected by the student body, stands ready to serve the students, faculty, and school at all time. He presides at all assemblies and is alert to all projects and proposals which will contribute to the betterment and progress of our school. The representatives from each section work in close cooperation with the student body, making regular reports, and considering all suggestions and requests made by the students.

The Student Council has taken advantage of every opportunity to promote the general welfare of the students and to arouse school spirit. They have had charge of the ticket sales for all the football and basketball games. They have sponsored an active campaign toward the singing of The Alma Mater in assembly and pep meetings.

The Student Council has worked to promote good fellowship among the students and close cooperation between the students, faculty, and community to create a wholesome interest in all activities of the school and community.. This year the council became a member of the Southwest Missouri Federation of Student Councils. Delegates were sent to Springfield for the sixth annual meeting, and several interesting and worthwhile suggestions were gained from the discussion groups representing the student organizations from all over this part of the state.

The Student Council has worked to create and maintain standards of good citizenship among the students. They have launched active drives and have collected contributions from the students for the March of Dimes and for the Crippled Children's Drive. They have made donations to the Community Chest and Red Cross.

The Student Council is proud of the record it has made and proud of the student body it represents.

The Carthage chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in 1931 to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire for service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of high character in pupils of Carthage High School.

With these characteristics in mind—scholarship, service, leadership, and character—the faculty votes on prospective members from students in the upper third of their class. The number of members shall not exceed fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class. New members are initiated with a beautiful and impressive ceremony given in the spring before student body, faculty, and friends.

Since the beginning of our society, two hundred girls and one hundred thirty-eight boys have been elected to membership.

The Carthaginian

It's fun to plan and prepare an annual, but it's work, too—long hours spent in getting candid and formal shots of YOU, collecting data, and completing the dummy. We hope you are pleased with this record of 1946-47 in the Carthage High School.

Band and Orchestra

The Instrumental Department of the Carthage Schools strives at all times to assist in school and community activities. The band, orchestra, drum corps, and instrumental classes are offered to develop talents and to create a liking and appreciation for better music that is performed in an artistic manner.

It is the hope of the department that all of the students in the Carthage Schools will take advantage of the opportunities provided to learn to play in band, orchestra and drum corps.

Senior Class Play

The final display of the acting talents of the class of '47 was on April 18 when "Life of the Party," a new comedy by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes, was presented. Don Moler, speech instructor, directed the production; and Emma Hain and Loralie Robertson were the student directors.

THE STORY

Mr. Hughes is to set up a branch office for his firm; flighty, funny Mrs. Hughes, being something of a snob at first, has high social ambitions. Oldest daughter, Mildred, a college freshman, fancies herself in love with the snooty son of a bank president. Imagine what happens to their aspirations when studious daughter Jean, under the illusion that she is in love with smooth-talking Mike Tisdale (who arranges the party and dupes Jean into playing hostess), flings off her glasses and reticences and becomes the life of the party.

And what a party! Dapper Teddy, her brother, gets into a merry mix-up juggling four dates at once—until the girls get wise! And youngest daughter Amy, a rowdy cheer-leader, falls in love for the first time. Neighbors object to the noise—to the extent of punching bewildered Mr. Hughes in the nose. The police arrive—Jean is in for a hard awakening—and so are the others, including both her parents. They all become aware of the serious implications of what had seemed very funny; and what makes the play unusual and worthwhile is the wise readjustments of the characters to one another and to life.

Debate

Chaucer, Spenser, and other early English writers used the word "debate" in the sense of "fight" or "quarrel," and Shakespeare speaks of men "debating with the sword;" but the term now has an entirely different meaning. While two speakers are battling with words to prove their points and to disprove those of their opponents, they are arguing systematically, applying their knowledge of the subject, and making an appeal to the reason of their audience.

The high school debate question this year was "Resolved: That the federal government should provide a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expense." Mr. Don Moler coached the teams.

Carthage High School was represented at the Pittsburg Debate Tournament December 6 and 7 by the following members of the Debate and Dramatics Class: Margaret Blankenship, W. A. Cochran, Beverly Epperson, Charles Estus, Jim Meares, Virginia Plumb, Patty Richardson, Charlyn Ropp, Lois Rush, and Hattie Ummel.

Those chosen to debate for Carthage High School at the Bolivar debate tournament January 17 were Lois Rush, Charles Estus, Hattie Ummel, and Patty Richardson.

This team holds the championship of the Southwest Missouri Debate League. It won the sub-district debate at Joplin, defeating Joplin and Webb City. It won the district debate at Springfield, defeating Aurora, Lebanon, and Monett. The Carthage team represented the Southwest district in the State League Debate at Columbia April 11, where they won third place.

The debaters who represented Carthage High School at the Joplin Junior College speech festival March 14-15 were Margaret Blankenship, W. A. Cochran, Larry Dunham, Bob Redmond, Charlyn Ropp, Lois Rush, Charles Estus, Hattie Ummel, and Patty Richardson. The Carthage team placed third.

Charles Estus, Larry Dunham, and Bob Redmond represented Carthage High School in the Little National Debate Tournament at Wentworth Military Academy March 29.

Debating is both a science and an art. "A science teaches us to know, and an art teaches us to do." The debate team has had an interesting and successful season of varied experiences that will help them throughout life.

"If we are agreed that we must live as a global community, what better foundation can we lay for the better understanding of our world neighbors than the study of their language?" Games, dialogues, music, and plays help El Circulo Castellano to foster this fine endeavor.

A social meeting has been held once a month. For September there was a picnic at Municipal Park. October featured a Hallowe'en party at the Civic Center. At Christmas there was the traditional Pinata party in which the honor of breaking the Pinata fell to Marjorie Reeves. A very pretty Valentine party was held in the Spanish room. Two enjoyable musical events were given by Charles Baldridge. The first was an organ recital given at the First Baptist Church at which time he was assisted by Delores Brandon, vocalist. The second, a piano musicale, was held in March and he was assisted by Miss Brandon and Barbara Alexander, pianist.

The Aristonian Literary Society has had a most enjoyable and profitable year for 1946-1947. The programs have been based on literary studies and the individual talents of the members. Activities of the club include the presentation of Miss Evelyn Milligan at an assembly program in a review of the book, "Wheels in His Head;" the filling of Red Cross boxes at Christmas; a wiener roast in the fall for the new members at the country home of Dorothy and Carolyn Frost; helping to give the lovely Christmas Tri-Club dance; a Mother-Daughter Banquet at St. Patrick's time; helping to sell tickets for the speech class play; entertaining the senior members with a formal spring dance; and actively supporting by participation or attendance all school programs, games, contests, and parties—all this making for a most successful year.

For thirty-eight years the Olympian Literary Society, organized in 1909, has endeavored to further the ideals and standards of Carthage Hi.

The forty-four members of this society have, this year, lived up to the motto, "Always Ready," by completing the following projects: A Red Cross box was filled to be sent to Europe, a Christmas basket was given to a needy family, a contribution was made to the Community Chest, some of the members distributed literature for the Red Cross, and the club helped the Speech class sell tickets for their play.

The social activities of the year included a weiner roast for the new members at the home of Charlotte Fullerton, the annual Tri-Club Dance, a Mother and Daughter Banquet, and a Spring Dance in honor of the seniors. An assembly program was arranged by the club.

With the help of the sponsor, Miss Virginia Irwin, the club has completed another very successful year.

The Altrurian Literary Society, founded in 1905, is the oldest club in the high school. Forty members meet every two weeks with the club sponsor, Mrs. Arlene King Wagner.

A definite program of charity is carried on in the community. Each fall the members have a Tag Day, the proceeds used for charity work. Baskets are sent to needy families at Christmas time. A number of Christmas gifts were sent to the Farmington Orphanage, Farmington, Missouri.

The social activities of the year began with a hamburger fry and line party in October. We were co-sponsors of the Tri-Club dance held December 6 at Memorial Hall. A dinner party was given for the freshmen members March 18. The seniors were entertained by the underclassmen with a formal spring dance at the Drake Hotel.

Hi-Y Club

The purpose of Hi-Y, an organization over 55 years old and with over 6,000 clubs and 175,000 boys participating in its program, is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. Its motto is "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living."

Clean Speech—The Hi-Y boy believes in clean speech and practices it. He avoids profane and smutty language.

Clean Scholarship—The Hi-Y boy believes in, and practices clean scholarship. He does not cheat in examinations or assignments, believing he must stand on his own merits. He does his work carefully and to the best of his ability.

Clean Living—A fellow who believes in clean habits must make them. He avoids forming bad habits, and fights against things that form them. Part of worship of a Creator is the living of a wholesome life.

History of the Public School Library

MISS MAY HUKILL

The first Public School Library was established in 1872 or 1873, students giving entertainments to procure funds with which to buy books. There is, however, no record available as to the number procured.

Earlier than this there had been a Public Library, the books having been provided by women's clubs; but this had been closed for some time. In 1888, these books were taken from storage and combined with the school library books. Book cases were built on all four sides of the northwest room of the old Central School. Miss Fannie Wells spent the summer sorting, cataloging, and shelving these. Carthage citizens were allowed the use of the library on payment of a membership fee of one dollar a year; however students and teachers had free use.

That winter an entertainment was given for library benefit, the program consisting of music and a talk by Prof. E. E. Dodd, principal of the high school, describing his recent trip abroad. Later two candy sales were held. The proceeds from these undertakings were used for the purchase of new books and the rebinding of old ones.

When high school work was transferred to what is now the Manual Arts building, the library became a part of the study hall, the room on the south side of the second floor. Later it was moved to the southwest room on the first floor next to the superintendent's office.

Miss Wells was succeeded in 1889 by Miss Blanche Chase; and in 1900 Miss Pauline Kirke became librarian, serving until May, 1903, when Miss Marian Glenn took the position. She was followed by Miss Jessie Stemmons.

In 1905 the Carnegie Library was opened and books were divided between the two libraries.

A room was provided for the library next to the study hall when the present high school building was erected in 1906. The rooms were separated by a large archway. In time this was closed, the space making a needed closet.

From time to time new shelving was added. That on the south side was presented by the class of 1908. The class of 1921 presented the shelves in the southeast corner.

For several years the Carthaginian staff used the northwest section, but their equipment was moved to the senior English room in 1914.

Miss Edith Saylor succeeded Miss Stemmons in 1913, and Miss May Hukill became librarian in 1914.
